Forecast For Northeast England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Saturday 09 Oct 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Patchy rain overnight, but dry with sunny spells on Sunday.

This Evening and Tonight:
It will be rather cloudy this evening with some patchy light rain at times. However, it will become drier and clearer from the north during the early hours, giving a markedly colder end to the night than of late. Minimum temperature 3 deg C (37 deg F).

Sunday:
After a bright and chilly start, it will be a fresh feeling day with sunny spells. Some fair weather cloud should develop later, with a freshening breeze. Maximum temperature 16 deg C (61 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Probably on the cloudy side again to start the working week, with the odd spot of rain possible at times, but becoming generally drier and brighter towards midweek.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.